The Lower East Side Printshop is pleased to present Keyed, with a reception for artists on Wednesday, September 14, 6 - 8pm. The exhibition will be on view at the Printshop from September 14 - November 9, 2011 and features new works on paper by 17 artists currently in-residence.

This exhibition represents recent works from current Keyholder Residency Program artists and participants in the Studio Rental Program. These programs provide New York area artists access to both affordable facilities and a close knit print community; both of which are essential to self publishing printmakers. The exhibited works are a great example of both the range of techniques and experimentation possible at the shop and the high caliber of work being produced there. As a former Keyholder, it is exciting to see the continuation of these programs and the expansion into the beautiful Midtown facilities. It continues to be a much needed contribution to printmaking in New York City and the print community at large.
